CONN BROTHERS.

Live and Let Live Folks

Lancaster still improving, we have a new stray pen.

Garrard county people thronged the road to Stanford this week.

School time is rapidly approaching, much to the regret of the kiddies.

If every threat of the last week had been a rain, what a season we would have had.

Lost-Sunday afternoon a gold stick pin with old English initial C. Reward if returned to this office.

Garrard county farmers are receiving checks for damage done to their tobacco crops by the recent hail storm.

Corn is already showing, we learned of one sale last week of 200 barrels at $4. Corn sowing is going to be corn this winter.

Petty thieving still continues about town, many of the perpetrators are known and citizens are laying for them with shot guns.

A faceious exchange under the head of "A Cloudburst", remarks that "forty drops of rain fell here yesterday". He has one on us any way.

Chief Herron says he is going to "put the lid on" the night orgies in the park if he has to sit up all night with a few of the scamps held there himself.

John Farra and Bob Elkin are holding large audiences spell bound with the miraculous tales of their "big catch" at Rockcastle, while Dan is vouching for every word they say.

Master Joseph Cabell Ramsey sustained painful injuries last week by being thrown from his pony, however we are glad to state they are not of a serious nature and he is able to be about.

Will Conn Serious Sick.

Mr. William Conn, a brother of Messrs. James, John and Frank Conn, lies seriously ill at his home on Stanford street in this city of typhoid fever, he is doing as well as could be expected and it is hoped that the careful attention which he is receiving will soon restore him to health.

Farmers And Citizens From All Over The State Gather At Versailles To Partake Of The Hospitality Of Johnson N Camden.

About the biggest thing ever attempted by an individual in the way of a barbecue, and we doubt if it was ever surpassed by an organization, was the monster barbecue given by Johnson Camden at his home near Versailles on Wednesday. On his magnificent 350 acre farm, which the illustrious Tom Marshall characterized as the "asparagus bed of the world" he had made preparations to feed 20,000 people, not a sandwich and a cup of coffee each, but to feed them to their heart, or stomachs content, on burgoo, beef, mutton and all the necessary "trimmings", and right nobly did the yeomanry of the state respond to the invitation which was general. By early dawn they began to respond, afoot, horseback, in automobiles and trainloads, until the fondest expectations of Mr. Camden as to the magnitude of the crowd was more than realized.

The object of the gathering of the farmers and citizens as announced by the host, was to promote the general welfare of the farmer and farming interests of the state, and preparations to the minutest detail had been made to this end; prominent men, men well versed in farming of a practical nature, lecturers upon the conservation of farm resources, farm finance and every thing pertaining to the farm and farmer, were present and made addresses, which were eagerly listened to and enjoyed as much as the splendid spread which had been prepared for the entertainment of the inner man. Suggestions were made and instructions given which opened up to the farmers of Kentucky possibilities of which they had never dreamed, and the seed sown are calculated to be of inestimable value to the farming interests in the state.

Too much gratitude cannot be expressed to this broad minded, liberal hearted gentleman, who gave so liberally of his time and means in order to promote the interests with which he is so prominently identified, and in which he has been so successful and in which he is so anxious to see others succeed.

J. C. Henry Hurt.

Master J. C. Henry, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Henry, was painfully injured last week by base ball bat in the hands of one of his school mates at West Point. The lad "slung his bat" and J. C. was in the way and received a painful gash in the head.

Fruit Of Inferior Quality.

Early in the season and after the danger of frost, the greatest menace to fruit in this country, it was thought that we would have a bumper fruit crop this year, but such is not the case. While fruit is plentiful it is small and very inferior in quality. Grapes are ripening rapidly and are small and not very good, peaches are far below the average and very few home grown on the market, while apples are plentiful but also small and inferior.

Reason Why.

Gaines the Insurance man writes the bulk of insurance in this and adjoining counties.

He represents the people's interest, by having debt paying companies, we don't send for special agent, avoids all argument and delay by settling his own losses with you when they occur.

Ask the man that was insured with Gaines. Gaines constitutes the firm, no needed agency, "if you please" not for sale, want no partner, we make no change, office same old place and am here to stay, just say Gaines and you are insured.

Another Of Garrard County's Prominent Citizens Passes Away.

Mr. John Fletcher Rubles passed peacefully into the sleep that knows no awaking at his country home near Buena Vista last Tuesday morning. It was only the first of last week that his friends were surprised to learn of his critical illness. He was in Lancaster about three weeks ago actively engaged in business matters looking healthy and robust as usual, and continued to look after his affairs until about a week previous to his death. Mr. Rubles however, had been a sufferer at times of kidney trouble for several years and it was a sudden attack of the old disease that caused his death. He had been confined to his bed only a week when the end came.

Everything that could be done by a devoted family with the assistance of nurses and the best medical skill that could be had to relieve him of his intense suffering and restore him to health again was done but of no avail. The disease was too firmly seated to be arrested and when he realized that the end was near, although suffering intensely he met the Masters call bravely like the man he was.

Funeral services were conducted at the residence by Dr. E. H. Pierce Wednesday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery, attended by a large procession of sorrowing relatives and friends. For many years deceased had been prominently connected with all public matters of importance in his county. He was deeply interested in education and it was a source of great satisfaction that he had assisted in the location and erection of the new handsome consolidated school building near his home and that he lived to see the work almost completed. Although a man of strong convictions he was broadminded and treated those who differed with him with great respect and consideration. He numbered his friends almost with his acquaintances and his influence in political matters was sought at all times as much on account of his known loyalty to a cause and to his friends as the benefits derived by his assistance. He always affiliated with the Democratic party and was recognized as one of the leaders of it in the county. He was honest and conscientious in his business dealings with his fellows and had confidence in his fellowman and loved to help those in need. He loved right and always sided with the weak. He loved his neighbors and delighted to accommodate all who called for favors, and the doors of his hospitable home were always open to his friends. We counted the deceased as one of our best friends. We had the pleasure of associating with him intimately in business, political and social matters and knew him to possess many fine traits of character, and deeply regret his taking away. In his death the county gives up one of its most upright and useful citizens, and the family a devoted and faithful husband and indulgent and loving father. Mr. Rubles was born in Garrard county May 6th, sixty eight years ago and spent all of his active life in the community where he died. He was one of a large and influential family in the county all of whom had great affection and respect for the deceased.

In addition to a number of brothers he is survived by his wife and six children all of whom reside in this county in the neighborhood of Buena Vista, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy in their bereavement, and hope that they may find some consolation at this time of sorrow in the honorable life of the unselfish and devoted husband and father.

Hundreds Of People Interested In Records Big Prize Campaign.

A large number of queries are coming to the contest department asking for information. Many sleeping ones just waking up. Contestants who at first did not think their chances were worth anything are changing their minds. The great race for fame and fortune assumes proportions which is attracting the closest attention throughout this part of the state.

Another Big Vote Offer

Is in force this week. Make up your mind to start your campaign at once. You can never get any better time. Hundreds of Dollars in prizes are just begging for Owners. This is your opportunity to get a Valuable Prize Absolutely Free.

The last few days have been full ones for the Contest Department owing to the large number of contestants, both old and new, who have suddenly awakened to the great opportunity that is before them, and have made up their minds that they have a chance, and a good one, too, of landing among the winners in this great battle of ballots.

There were many who, when the campaign was first inaugurated, jumped to the conclusion that the thing represented a good amount of hard work, and would take so much time that there was no use in making an effort.

But after watching the progress of the campaign for a week or so they commenced to realize that it was "making haste slowly" and that there was plenty of chance for anyone who readily intended to do something, to commence at once, and in a few days be in a position to vote themselves into the lead, or near it, should they so desire.

Also many who had heard that some friend had entered their names just smiled at the time, and let it go at that. But as they discovered that this and that friend showed a willingness to help them, and they got to sizing up the other candidates in the race, they soon made up their minds that a district prize was a cinch for them, and the capital prize not by any means an impossibility. Then they determined to get busy and win something.

As a result of the final determination of many such contestants, added to the large number of new nominations which have continued to pour into the office of The Contest Manager, the contest department has been on the jump for the past few days endeavoring to keep up with the business.

The tremendous coupon vote which is being cast for the contestants shows that widespread interest in the contest and demonstrates clearly that all is necessary for any of the scores of contestants to do is to make up her mind to get busy and their friends stand more than ready to do their share.

INTEREST IS WIDESPREAD.

Interest in the great contest is not confined to the immediate locality by any means. Each day mail brings in letters and ballots from all parts of the United States and the fame of this great race has penetrated as far north as Michigan, as far west as Colorado and as far east as New York. We expect before it is over that the interest will have spread over a large portion of the continent for the contestants in this race have friends scattered over a great many different parts of the United States. It may also be stated in passing that we accept subscriptions or renewals from any point in that country when accompanied by money order and credit the votes to whatever contestants the subscriber may indicate.

ANOTHER BIG VOTE OFFER.

The contest department was kept busy last week as the contestants and their friends kept bringing in the votes and subscriptions to apply on the Biggest and Best Vote Offer of the contest. A large number of the contestants took advantage of this big offer to increase their reserve votes and scores of subscriptions were turned in to the Record Office. However, a number of the contestants could not get all their promises fulfilled in time to take advantage of this big offer, and in order to help these candidates, we have decided to put on another big offer this week. This big Vote Offer, while not as large as the Biggest and Best Offer of the contest, will, nevertheless, make your votes and subscriptions count up very rapidly. The offer is as below.

THIS WEEK'S BONUS OFFER.

Between the dates of Friday, Aug. 22nd and Thursday, Aug. 28th at 2 P. M. we will give 10,000 EXTRA VOTES ON EVERY DOLLARS WORTH OF NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS TURNED IN TO THE Central Record office, and Double Votes on all old subscriptions turned in between the above mentioned dates. Below, we give the schedule now in force which includes the extra votes.

A Notable Evangelistic In North Garrard.

About fifty persons made profession of faith recently in pastorate of Dr. E. H. Pearce in a special service east of Danville in North Garrard of one week as an out door meeting known as the "Night Watch of Decision Week." The occasion had been prepared for in survey and search work for the non-attendant on church and Sunday school for some months previous; the pastor being signally assisted by the faithful service of a layman helper Mr. Walter Arnold who was converted in the great evangelistic last winter at Columbus Ohio held by "Billy Sunday" the ex base ball champion. It was for special note, that the out door arrangement in seating and lighting with every convenience was made voluntarily by those who afterward professed faith and also petitioned the pastor to conduct the weeks service in the torrid weather and the farmers labor season. All denominations came for miles around and participated heartily and joyfully, the fellowship element being happiest expression. The last day Sunday 10th, an all day with a feast spread for every-one was for lasting memory.

Governor Sulzer's Trouble.

The Governor of New York has been impeached by the Legislature. Since he has been Governor of New York, Mr. Sulzer has been active in his efforts to redeem the pledges made to the people in the platform of his party. Both parties had pledged the people a Direct Primary law and a Corrupt Practice Act. By his activity to force the legislature to pass these laws he has angered the political machines of the state and both Boss Murphy of Tammany and his cohorts of the Democratic machine and Boss Barnes of the Republican machine united in a fight against the Governor. An investigation by the Legislature into the conduct of Mr. Sulzer concerning certain transactions with the campaign funds while he was a candidate resulted instead of the enactment of the laws pushed by the Governor.

The investigation developed that the Governor was a heavy gambler in stocks upon the New York exchange and usually a liberal loser, and that he had misappropriated a large sum perhaps as much as $30,000 contributed to the democratic party while he was its candidate for governor, and lost the money in gambling in the stock market. There is no excuse for the Governor's conduct. That he is guilty of the charge there is no doubt.

The public will regret the result because of the present defeat of the proposed legislation the enactment of which is so much desired by the people of New York, and again for the downfall and destruction of Mr. Sulzer. He has had a long and honorable public career. He was regarded as an able Democratic leader. The misappropriation of the campaign funds seems to be his first offense but it serves to defeat his program of reform and wreck his political fortunes and give the enemies of good government in New York another victory, though temporary it is to be hoped.

The state of Kentucky owes about $2,500,000, and no money to pay its debts. Now the worst feature of the situation is that the state is every day running behind on current expenses. When warrants begin to be issued regularly to Confederate pensioners, the expenses of the state will exceed the revenues by possibly $750,000 a year.

Plans are being suggested to relieve the situation, such as cutting down school expenses and an effort to bring from concealment untaxed property and higher assessments. We believe the first thing is to secure economical administration of all branches of the government, together with more careful expenditures of all funds and a determined effort upon the part of the people to prevent the legislature from appropriating money for any purpose, without providing the manner of raising the revenue.

Even after all the property that is hidden, is exposed and all that is undervalued, is assessed properly, there will still remain the necessity of rigid economy in public expenditures.

From the daily papers of Tuesday it appeared that the Mexican imbroglio was about to involve Uncle Sam in a mix up; a report that Provisional Governor Huerta had notified President Wilson's personal emissary, John Lind that the United States must at once recognize the Mexican Government as represented by him, and fixing Monday midnight as the time limit in this must be done, and threatening in the event of our failure to do this to hand to Charge O'Shaughnessy his pass ports. This would have meant a complete cessation of the pleasant relations between this country and Mexico. However, the entire matter was quickly denied and Mr. Lind wired reassurances to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, and the indications are now that a peaceful settlement of the entire Mexican affair is in sight.

Some members of the Fiscal Court are in favor of paying the hands warned in to work the dirt roads of the county, provided the Court continues to work the county roads in this way. We think that they should be paid per day the prevailing wages of the county. We have far outlived the time when it is practical to work men upon the public highways of the county without reasonable remuneration. It is not just to the poorer people and result in bad county roads and a great waste of time and inconvenience to the business interest of the county.

Gov. Sulzer of New York against whom impeachment charges were brought by the General Assembly in extraordinary session recently, still continues to claim the reign of government, as also does Lieut. Governor Martin H. Glynn also claims to be duly authorized Governor of the Empire state. The outcome is being watched with interest all over the country. Both claimants have a strong following and a bitter fight will be waged to determine just who is entitled to the seat.

Logan Wood Slated From Danville Post-office.

Chief of Police Logan Wood of Danville is in Washington pushing his claims for the Danville postoffice and his appointment seems a certainty. He has the support of Congressman James and Congressman Helm, and the latter has consented to an immediate change in the office. Mr. Linney, the present postmaster has held the office for fourteen years.

Meeting Begins At Pleasant Grove.

A protracted meeting will begin at Pleasant Grove church on August 24th. Rev. H. C. Bell will conduct the services and every one is cordially invited to attend the services.

Protracted Meeting At Fairview.

Rev. B. E. Watson of Lexington began a protracted meeting at Fairview church on last Monday night. The meeting will continue for about two weeks and it is expected that considerable interest will be aroused.

Mrs. J. Wood Bourne Undergoes Operation.

Mrs. James Wood Bourne was taken to Lexington on last Sunday, where on Monday she underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Her many friends will be glad to know that she stood the ordeal nicely as could be wished or expected.

Bro. Pollitt's Work Gives Satisfaction.

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church of this place at a recent meeting gave hearty and unanimous endorsement to the labors of Rev. S. H. Pollitt their pastor during his pastoral year of the church. They earnestly requested Conference which meets in September to assign him to this place for another year.

Miss Noland To Succeed Miss West.

The trustees of the Graded School have elected Miss Margaret Noland of Richmond to succeed Miss Knapp West, who resigned as a member of the Faculty. Miss Noland will teach the eighth grade. She comes highly recommended and is expected to add much to the efficiency of the already splendid corps of teachers.

The County Road Question.

The matter of the manner of working the county roads and the appropriation for the purpose of maintaining them is seriously agitating the minds of the members of the Fiscal Court of Garrard county. The matter was discussed at a meeting called for the purpose on last Saturday, but no satisfactory conclusion was reached in regard to them, and another meeting is called for today, Friday, at which time it is hoped to reach some satisfactory conclusion in the matter.

Hopper.

At 8 o'clock last Monday morning the entire community was saddened by the intelligence that the soul of John S. Hopper had taken its flight. Mr. Hopper had been in feeble health for many years, but he had almost up to the day of his death been able to be up and around, and few that were who knew of his serious illness. After funeral services at the grave conducted by Rev. J. W. Beagle, all that was mortal of this well liked citizen was placed at rest in the family lot in the Lancaster cemetery.

John Hopper was 51 years of age at the time of his death. He was the youngest son of the late Seymour Hopper and was a member of one of the oldest and best known families in the county. For many years he was engaged in the mercantile business in Lancaster, and during that time he formed a wide acquaintance, and because of his affability and accommodating disposition, every acquaintance meant a friend. Many years ago he was forced by ill health to abandon any active pursuit and has lived at the family home in Lancaster.

He was naturally of a retiring disposition, quiet, unobtrusive, but kind hearted and sympathetic, ever ready to favor a friend or to aid those who were in distress.

He is survived by two brothers, Col. Ed. C. Hopper the well known turfman and Mr. Louis C. Hopper of this place, and by five sisters, Mrs. Marie Pennington of Oldham county Ky, Mrs. Mary C. Payne of Fayette county, Mrs. Sara Kruger of Bowling Green, Miss Elizabeth Hopper of Arizona and Miss Jane Hopper of the place.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

Mr. John Parks Seriously Ill.

Mr. John Parks is reported as being seriously ill at his home in Richmond. Mr. Parks was until recently a citizen of Garrard county and was among the leading citizens and farmers of the Paint Lick locality. A host of friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Vacation Times.

Everybody who is able is "taking their vacation" and escaping the heat and dust among the lakes or somewhere where it is more comfortable, while the editor and those who are not able to afford such luxuries are compelled to stay at home, cuss the heat and endeavor to prepare for the hard winter which we know is to come.

Watermelons High.

A five cent watermelon, or what is ordinarily a five cent watermelon is bringing from a quarter to thirty five cents each this season, and at this prohibitive price the average editor will have to console himself, with the seed from some other fellows melon, plant them and raise his own melons next year. The quality is very good but they are small and not very plentiful.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Union Sunday School at Antioch will give a picnic in the woods at Mrs. Leander Davidson on Buckeye pike Saturday. It will be an all day amusement and many are expected and invited to attend.

All kinds of games to interest and entertain the young and old has been arranged and a glorious good time is expected. Mr. R. N. Ison has entire charge which means that it will be a success in every particular.

Prof. Caner Arrives.

Prof. M. L. Caner of Richmond, who has been chosen as Principal of the local school, has arrived with his family, and has taken up his residence in the cottage recently vacated by Prof. Riley. Prof. Caner will spend the time intervening between now and the opening of the school term in forming the acquaintance of the teachers, pupils and patrons and formulating plans for his course of work. He comes highly recommended as an educator and a prosperous year is hoped for and expected under his supervision. It was with a great deal of reluctance that the citizens of Richmond consented to part with Prof. Caner.

Miss Darnall's Sister Dies In Maysville.

Mrs. Sallie Vaughan Baldwin died at Wilson Hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an illness of nearly two months.

She was taken to the hospital nearly two weeks ago when an operation was performed, after which she seemed to be improved, but in the past few days her symptoms grew worse rapidly and her death resulted at the hour named.

Mrs. Baldwin was a very popular woman and possessed those traits of amiability that made her welcome everywhere. As a young girl Sallie Darnall was the life of every social gathering.

Deceased was the wife of the late Robert L. Baldwin, another very popular Maysville man. Two children were born to them, Mr. Addison Baldwin and Miss Lucy Baldwin of this city.

Her death was a sad blow to her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Darnall, this city, with whom she made her home and much sympathy goes out to the parents, children, brother and sisters. The sisters surviving are Miss Florence Darnall of this city and Mrs. Anna McDougle of Lexington, the latter being here for some weeks. Her brother, Mr. Thomas Darnall, resides at Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Baldwin was 48 years of age on the day of her death, she having been born at Elizaville, Fleming County, on August 15th, 1865.

She was a member of the Central Presbyterian Church of Maysville and Pastor R. L. Benn, will be in charge of the funeral services which will occur Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the house. Burial in Maysville cemetery. —Maysville Public Ledger.

An Old Timer.

Israel Jackson, an old time colored man and one well remembered in Lancaster, has been here at work for the last week. Israel is a mortar mixer and had carrier by profession, and is a past master at his art. He made and carried the mortar which went into the Presbyterian church, Mr. J. W. Miller's residence and many other buildings about town. He tells us he has prospered and owns a home in Stanford, but that he goes all over the country working at his trade.

A Splendid Well.

Mr. John E. Anderson who resides at Point Leavell, has a well of water which closely resembles both in taste and medicinal qualities the famous "salt sulphur well" at Crab Orchard. The water when first taken from the well is nearly as cold as ice water and has a splendid taste. The stream seems well high inexhaustible and has not been at all affected by the recent dry weather. People from all the surrounding country come to it with bottles and jugs, and during the present drought it has been especially well patronized.

Anniversary Celebration.

On August 26th, Richmond Lodge, No. 25, Free and Accepted Masons will be one hundred years old. It has been the custom among the lodges located elsewhere to celebrate the centennial of their lodge. The Masons will therefore celebrate their centennial anniversary by having a big all day picnic on the Normal School Campus, Richmond Ky. Everyone is invited and expected to come to this all day picnic. They will have excellent music of eighteen pieces, good dinner, and eloquent speakers. Prominent Masons from all over the state will be present, and it will be a day long to be remembered. Ample preparations will be made for an immense crowd. Don't fail to come as dinner will be provided for everyone that is present. The Masons are requested to report at the Masonic Hall Richmond Ky, at 9:30 to receive souvenirs, then join in the parade from the Masonic Temple to the Normal School Campus. Upon their arrival at the Campus, the band will give a concert, after which a brief history of the Richmond Lodge will be read. Then Gov. James B. McCreary will give a talk, after which the picnic lunch will be served by the daughters of the Masons of Richmond, Madison Co, and adjoining counties. The daughters of Masons will please consider this an invitation to them to be present and help serve the lunch. That night at the Masonic Temple there will be a reception and dance for the Masons and their families only. This is to be limited to the Masons and their families on account of there not being enough room in the Masonic Temple to entertain the general public.

Tom McNeal tells of a Kansas man who tried living down in Southwest Arizona. One of his objections to the country is the high cost of living. In the three years he was there the weather got so hot on four different occasions that it melted the gold fillings out of his teeth. That made his dentist bills something awful. He finally decided to have his teeth pulled and wear store teeth, but the metal plates go so hot they scorched the roof of his mouth and his gums till they were covered with blisters. The last year he discarded teeth entirely and gummed it, but he wants no more of that country in his.

Not The Drought But An Insect.

Many of our exchanges in commenting upon the dead appearance of the English Elm throughout the country attributes it to the drought. This is an error, every year for many years this tree, the most beautiful of our lawn shade trees has presented just such an appearance, rain or no rain. They are not dead and with the coming of another spring its foliage will be just as pretty as the preceding year. The cause of its dead appearance is some kind of an insect which attacks it causing the foliage to turn as brown as if stricken by frost. It is to be hoped that in time science will give us some spray or other remedy which will prevent this, destroy its enemy and restore to us what has been one of our prettiest lawn ornaments.

Harry K. Thaw Again Springs Into Limelight. This Time Makes His Escape From Matteawan.

Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Sanford White, and perhaps the subject of more newspaper notoriety than any other man living, has again sprung into the limelight; on last Sunday he made his escape from the Asylum, Matteawan in New York, sprang into a high power automobile which was in waiting just outside the gates, and presumably made his escape to the state of Connecticut, thirty miles distant. His escape was undoubtedly preconcerted, but just whether or not officials of the institution were concerned in it, is not known. It is the opinion of many legal lights that once outside the jurisdiction of the New York courts that he will be immune from arrest. It is sincerely to be hoped that whether he makes good his escape or whether or not he is again incarcerated, that the reading public will be freed from the long and tedious newspaper accounts of his doings in the future.

An Old Horse In New Harness.

Col. W. P. Walton has purchased the interest of his brother, Ed. C. Walton, in the Richmond Climax, and assumed the active control of that sheet on last Monday morning. In the capacity of Editor-in-chief, and in conjunction with the late business associates of Ed. C. Walton, the Climax will continue to be run with Col. Walton at the helm.

There is not a more able or better known newspaper man in Kentucky than Col. Walton. Since closing out his interest in the Frankfort State Journal about two years ago, he has been engaged in other pursuits, but from time to time has contributed ably to the editorial columns of the Lexington Herald, and the lure of the press proved too strong for him and he has finally again buckled on the harness and joined the ranks of Kentucky journalists, much to the delight of the journalists, as well as the reading public.

Ed. Walton, an other bright newspaper man, received a flattering business proposition from Orlando Fla, and which he felt he could not well afford to reject, and he therefore sold his interests to his brother and took his departure for his future home in Florida. While we tender to the elder Walton a warm welcome on his return to the newspaper ranks, it is yet with keen regret that we part with his younger brother, and to both we offer congratulations and best wishes.

Alfalfa Easily Raised In Garrard County

And Once A Stand Is Secured, Produces A Never Failing Crop Of Hay In Spite Of Drought. And Weather Conditions.

Drought, more or less severe, seems to strike this country every year. The hay crop, a crop which in order to prove a success must have rain at just the proper time, is perhaps more seriously affected than any other crop by the drought, and two out of three crops in as many years have proven almost complete failures, and as a result the farmer has been compelled to pay exorbitant prices for hay to winter his stock. In view of such conditions, the farmer begins to speculate as to how he can remedy such a state of affairs. The remedy seems ready to his hands. Alfalfa has been successfully raised in Garrard county under proper handling and conditions; there have been failures, many of them we will admit, but their cause is attributable to the lack of proper information, or failures to take the proper care in attempting to raise this valuable crop.

The secret of the success of this crop may be summed up in a very few words; the absolute essentials to successful culture are, drainage, deep soil, sweet land, or land free from acid, thorough preparation of seed bed and properly inoculated seed. These essentials complied with, and you may have a never failing hay crop, producing from two to three crops of good hay each year, regardless of climatic conditions.

The best way to raise alfalfa is after some cleaning crop, such as rye, peas or something that will eradicate the weeds; the land should be thoroughly and carefully prepared, and treated with 500 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre, this can be secured from any phosphate works at a net cost of about $17. per ton; two tons to the acre of carbonate of lime, crushed limestone, which will cost you net $2.25 per ton and about ten tons, or twenty wagon loads of ordinary stable manure, the above quantities are for one acre of ground. The seed may be secured from any seed house. About twenty pounds should be sown to the acre and should be sown now as soon as possible, the 15th of August is considered the best time, or anyway at least six weeks before the coming of frost. Too much care cannot be taken in the inoculation of the seed; the matter for the inoculation may be secured free of charge upon application to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Washington D. C. Tell him how much ground you wish to cultivate, and he will send you the proper amount. Spread your seed out and pour this matter, which comes in a liquid form, over the seed, drop by drop, being careful to work it thoroughly through the seed, then place in a suitable place to dry, but be careful not to allow the seed to dry in the sun. The seed can be either drilled or broadcast and lightly harrowed in.

Farmers who have followed the above suggestions have been remarkably successful with this crop and the returns they have had have amply repaid for the outlay both in labor and expense. Mr. Thomas Rankin who lives on the Old Danville pike near town is one of our farmers who has been successful; Mr. Homer Tinsley is another farmer who is well informed as to the proper mode of culture of this crop, and we are sure either of these gentlemen will take pleasure in imparting all the information at their disposal to any farmer who contemplates raising a crop of this splendid hay producer.

DAZED THE MOROS BASEBALL MAKING

Sights the Sultan's Suit Saw on Board the Charleston.

FUN IN FRAMING A TREATY.

General Bates Had a Sort of Circus on His Hands While Negotiating With the Filipino Potentate For the Transfer of the Islands to Uncle Sam.

Few treaties ever were negotiated in more interesting and ludicrous circumstances than those that attended the one made in 1898 between General Bates and the sultan of Moro.

When, after much dillydallying, the Filipino potentate was finally induced to come on board the Charleston, the general's headquarters, every effort was made to put him in good humor. He and his suit partook freely of drink, but refused all food as coming from the hands of Christians. Yet they were in no danger of starving, for they had been careful to bring with them enormous sacks of rice.

When the guests were conducted over the man-of-war they marveled at its mechanical mysteries. At the suggestion of an officer the sultan touched an electric button, and instantly a Chinese servant appeared. Azin in response to a suggestion, he touched the button twice, and a United States marine stood in the doorway.

From that time every ornament aboard the ship that in any way suggested an electric button was pushed by the sultan or by some member of his suit. An officer conducted him into a dark room and showed him how to turn the button that adjusted the lighting apparatus. The flood of light that resulted left him with gaped mouth and dilated eyes.

His wonderment continued to grow throughout the afternoon, and when ever an opportunity afforded he repeated the performance of pushing electric buttons and turning electric lights on and off. He even went so far, when he thought himself unwatched, to try to appropriate one of the lighted bulbs.

When ice water was brought in the lump of ice in the pitcher was immediately seized by his royal highness and as quickly dropped to the floor. As the lump gradually diminished in size the sultan's party looked at it in suspicion.

Mr. Shuck suggested to the sultan that he order one of his men aloft and recall him when he reached the crow's nest. The first order was easy to execute, but when a return was ordered, his voice having failed to carry, a megaphone was brought, and into this the sultan shouted for the man to return under penalty of instant death. Immediately the thoroughly frightened Moro dropped to the deck. The ruler took the dimensions of the strange mouthpiece and declared that he would make one for himself.

The most amusing incident occurred when the sultan upon invitation fired a Colt automatic gun. The explosion of the first discharge appeared to root him to the spot. His hands gripped the trigger, with the result that shells continued to pepper the surrounding waters.

Again and again the royal gunner begged the officers to stop the action of the infernal machine, not knowing that the means of doing it lay in his own hands. So thoroughly frightened was he that it was impossible to make him loosen his hold, and an officer ordered the tape cut, thus stopping the supply of ammunition.

The one pounder was next brought into play, but the sultan refused to go near one of the eight inch guns, which he had been invited to fire.

Meantime the knives of his attendants had been taken to the dynamo room and charged with electricity, with the result that the suit wore of the opinion that the evil one himself was abroad. They begged and implored to be taken ashore and, quite forgetful of their bags of rice, scurried down the gang ladder.

At night the searchlight was brought to bear upon the Moro town of Bus Bus, and the instant desertion of the town followed, even the dogs leaving it. For many weeks thereafter no amount of persuasion could induce the inhabitants to return.

General Bates made his headquarters in the town of Jolo, and thither the sultan and his staff came on several occasions to discuss the treaty. Subsequently they made another visit to the Charleston. This time the mother of the sultan accompanied the party, and during the visit a photograph owned by one of the officers rendered sections for the entertainment of the guests.

The aged dame sat entranced throughout the performance, and it was not until the time came for her son to affix his signature to the treaty that she awakened. On one condition only would she permit the sultan to sign—the photograph must become hers at once.

For a time that photograph threatened to be the means of upsetting all General Bates' well laid plans for the amicable taking over of the islands, but fortunately the owner was prevailed upon to part with the machine in the interests of his government, and the treaty was executed.—E. C. Rost in Century Magazine.

Materials and Methods Used in Building Up the Spheres.

ONLY ONE PROCESS BY HAND.

That is Sewing on the Covers, a Task to Which Machines Are Not Equal. The Yarns Are Wound by Machinery Because Hand Work Was a Failure.

There are few fans who realize just how much work is required in the making of a regulation sized baseball. The centers of baseballs are made of pure Para rubber in most cases, but the cork center ball, which has been patented, is an exception. The idea of the center piece of rubber, of course, is to give the ball resiliency. If a baseball was made without this center piece it would be "dead"—that is, it would not have the desired bounding qualities, the "life."

The centerpieces are generally made to order for the baseball factories. The next process in the making of a ball is the winding on of pure woolen yarn. There was a time when the yarn was wound around the Para by hand, but soon it became necessary to get a machine which would do the work of man. It was found in the times when the yarn was wound by hand that the man coming to work at 9 o'clock in the morning was putting out better balls than he was in the afternoon around 3 o'clock. Winding by hand was a tiresome job, and toward the late afternoon the men began to get tired, and consequently the yarn was not wound around the ball tight enough. Many balls were returned to the factory because they did not possess the resilient powers.

Realizing that this personal defect was something which had to be overcome, a machine for the winding purpose was worked upon and perfected. Now all baseballs are wound by mechanical power, and much better work than man did or can do is accomplished. The yarn is wound around the Para under heavy tension, almost to the breaking point. Consequently when enough has been put on the ball is very strong and almost solid, due to the tight tension used. In the days of hand making many balls were soggy and soft because a uniform tension could not be kept by the person winding. There are three layers of woolen yarn over the Para. For about an inch in thickness three ply yarn of blue color is used, and over this is wound a thin layer of white two ply yarn. The blue yarn is again brought into use, but is only of one ply.

Naturally it develops that something to cover the wool yarn must be used in order to keep it from unrolling. The ball must be solid, so that when it comes in contact with a bat the threads will not break or move out of place. It has been found that camel's hair stretched yarn is the best for covering the ball after the wool has been put on and the ball is the size desired. This hair is put on wet, and when it dries a contraction takes place, making the ball more firm and at the same time solidifying it. Only a thin layer of the camel's hair is used, just enough to warrant the wool yarn keeping in position. After the drying process is over a very fine layer of specially made cement is applied by means of dipping the ball into the fluid. Then the ball is ready to cover.

Most balls are covered with alum tanned horsehide, the best material, it is claimed, which has been found to be of good use for the hammering which a baseball gets. This is cut into its proper shape by means of pin dies, which also punch small holes around the edge of the hide to be used in the sewing. The ball is sent to the men doing the sewing, which is now and always has been done by hand. Machines have been tried, but not one of them has proved equal to the task. The men who sew on the covers must be experienced and very capable in their work. This sewing process must be done with great accuracy. The work appears to be tiresome and rather tedious, and so it is. A man working at his fastest can do only two to three dozen a day.

With the covers sewed on the finishing up processes come next. Naturally just after the sewing has been completed the seams are rather rough. A good baseball, if examined, will notice a smooth over the entire surface, including the seams. A pitcher, if he had to use a ball with rough seams, would not be able to do his best work, as a luge in the ball would be trying to him. The roughness would make the fingers sore from the continual rubbing. Therefore to do away with this the ball is put in a rolling machine, which presses out the rough seam and makes the ball smooth all over. This done, the trademark is stamped on, together with the guarantee, size and weight of the ball. The balls are then taken to the packing room, where they are wrapped in tissue paper and still further wrapped in tin foil. They are then sealed in pasteboard boxes and are ready for shipment.

There are surprising numbers of baseballs used in this country and in other countries to some extent, but out of every 150 dozen it is claimed that but one ball comes back for being in bad condition.—Springfield Republican.

CONTEST.

5 years.....$26,000
3 years.....20,400
2 years.....15,600
1 year.....4,800

DON'T NEGLECT OPPORTUNITIES.

The contest man would like to ask all contestants whether they are not overlooking a good many opportunities for securing votes? Are you not neglecting many possible sources for subscriptions? Don't put this contest in the background for other matters of far less importance to you. Remember that the reward you are after is not a trifling one. That you are after something big, and that it will take big effort to win.

Don't think that because all other candidates appear to be in a comatose condition that some few will not awaken to the call of opportunity and make a last week spurt to win out.

Prizes such as the Central Record is offering should not go begging and their value is certain to arouse the interest of some of the many wide awake ones who are not doing much at present.

SYSTEMATIZE YOUR WORK.

Ask your friends to help you and see that they do it. Don't take a casual promise as final, and let them send in a few coupons and think they are doing something for you. Make them pledge you 25,000 or 50,000 votes and make them deliver the goods. Remember that no one ever won anything in a contest except busy people.

No loafer ever had a look in for anything. And the busy worker is always too busy to see every one of his friends in person. But she is naturally an organizer and a party who gets around trifling obstacles. So she plans some way to get the good word along to all the people whom she thinks are possible prospects for subscriptions.

The way she does this varies according to the position and temperament of the contestant. Some of them keep the telephone working a certain length of time each day. Others depend on a letter to their friends. Others who have been cheerfully "digging up" for every charitable and "booster" enterprise that was ever pulled off conclude that it is time some of those old something for them. So they go out and see the people who are indebted to them for many favors and get them to show that they believe in reciprocity.

Those kind of candidates do not let a day go by without securing at least one subscription. They get their friends to interest their friends and gather thousands of votes in that way. Hundreds of people have no personal friends in the contest and would just as soon help you as any one else if you see them first, or if your friend tells them about you first. The whole secret of the thing is to BE FIRST.

Organize your work systematically. A friendship chain is a good thing. Get each one of your friends to tell their friends about you and that your ambition is to win something big and they will in turn be interested in your success. In no time there will be a host of people working for your success.

It pays to advertise!
Blossom Brown, who was fined for exhibiting herself through a slit skirt in Virginia has secured a chorus job in New York, it is understood.
There are thousands of modern examples, but the first instance was the hen.

Nobody cares anything about goose eggs. People won't buy them. But as for hen eggs, everyone knows what these things cost and how popular they are. When a goose lays an egg no one knows—or cares—anything about it. It's different with the hen. She tells the whole neighborhood. Everyone knows it.

So we see once again that it pays to advertise.

Hints For Canning Season.

Always screw the fruit jar covers on so tight that the old man will have to use an ax, a chisel, a kit of burglar tools and a stick of dynamite to open them next winter.

Always peel the pineapples before canning them. Pineapples have a barbed hide and it always scratches a man's throat to swallow them when they are in their virgin state. Large pineapples should be cut up into two or more pieces as some pineapples are too large for a mouthful.

To strain catsup thoroughly, hang one end of the catsup on a nail several feet from the floor and tie a two-hundred-pound weight to the other end of it and let it hang several days. This ought to strain it sufficiently.

$2,000 SADDLE HORSE STAKE BANNER FEATURE KY. STATE FAIR

Seventeen Blue-Blooded Equine Monarchs Have Been Entered In This Contest for Rich Prizes at the Big Louisville Show In September

(Special).—Seventeen royally bred "Monarchs of the Equine World" are to be pitted against each other in the great $2,000 Commissioner of Agriculture Stake for five-gaited saddle horses, which will be the banner event of the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville, September 15-20, according to the list of entries which closed on July 1.

The premium is the highest ever offered in a contest of this kind, and has attracted the most important owners and exhibitors of the country. The $2,000 stake is divided into seven different prizes, and one of the conditions of the contest being that the entry money for all over 15 contests shall be added to the first premium, makes this enticing prize figure up to $680. The honor of being "in the money" at all in this stake is one coveted by the leading owners and exhibitors of blue-blooded stock in the country, and the struggle for supremacy among the seventeen is destined to be a formidable one.

The roster as it stands for 1913 includes P. W. Ray & Son, of Bowling Green, Ky., who will probably fight for first prize with Black Whirlwind, a contestant, who is truly a "dark horse," being totally unknown to ring frequenters, but who is reputed as formidable as its name. Mat S. Cohen, of Lexington, Ky., will very likely enter the celebrated Mary Yandell Fox, who took third prize last year for her proud owner, Mrs. Richard Powers, of Danville, Ky.

J. T. Collins & Son, of North Middletown, Ky., will enter a horse never shown heretofore.

Matlack & Shropshire, of Winchester, Ky., have taken two entries and will likely make a strong bid for first honor with Hazel Dawn, the beautiful winner of the 1912 prize, and the great gelding Jack Barrymore.

Powhatan Woolridge, Pewee Valley, Ky., has also doubled his chances and it is surmised that he will enter a very fine saddle mare and his celebrated Richieu King.

W. S. Nicol, Woodburn, Ky., will come in with an unknown, as will Thurman & Peters, of Springfield, Ky. R. F. Moreland, Lexington, Ky., will more than likely choose as his entry a full brother to the celebrated Nickel Plate, and Ball Brothers, of Versailles, have several likely prospects, among the number being the great Sadie Macy.

James Green, of Louisville, Ky., will show the bay stallion, Happy Chief, one of the celebrated sons of Bourbon Chief.

H. C. Barham, Milan, Tenn., promises to uncover a horse new to the wisecracks of the ring.

The entry of A. J. Jones, North Middletown, Ky., has not yet been named but it is supposed he will show either the Princess V. or Marvel King, brother to the noted stallion Bourbon King. Miss Lulu Long, of Longview Farm, Lees Summit, Mo., has entered My Major Dare, the splendid $10,000 beauty which she purchased last year after he won the fifth premium in the 1912 Kentucky State Fair Stakes.

Allen R. Edelen, of Burgin, Ky., will in all probability show a promising daughter of Bohemian King, and Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville, either his famous Carolina or Margue rita.

FINE FARM

AND

Valuable Personality At Public Sale To The Highest Bidder

As Executrix of Nixon Perkins, Deceased, I will sell to the highest bidder on Thursday, September 4, '13

sale beginning promptly at 10 o'clock, the farm, crops and all stock and farming implements. Sale held on the premises. The farm contains 340 acres with a beautiful dwelling and modern conveniences, with all necessary out-buildings in good repair, located near Marksberry in Garrard county on the Lancaster, Nicholasville and Lexington turnpike road, six miles from Lancaster and eight miles from Danville. The site upon which the dwelling is located is attractive and all the surroundings are beautiful, and the farm is ideal for residence purposes.

We unhesitatingly assert that there is no more beautiful and fertile farm of 340 acres in all the blue grass region of Kentucky, nor a farm of this size with less waste land nor any one adapted to more profitable farming purposes. Every acre of the 340 acres is hemp and tobacco land and there is a large tobacco barn on the farm. 130 acres in meadow and the remainder in cultivation. The farm is especially adapted to stock raising on account of the abundance of water on all parts of the farm furnished by seven never failing springs. The soil is the true blue grass kind, which makes stock raising profitable. The farm is improved with barns, which are supplied with water for the purposes of handling stock.

There are two comfortable tenant houses on the farm and farm labor can be acquired at all times in this locality. The purchaser of this farm can truthfully assert that there is no better in the State of Kentucky.

The following is a partial list of the personal property:

4 Good Work Mules, 4 brood mares, 4 mule colts, 1 three year old gelding, 1 two year old filly by Rex Hilton, 23 head of two year old cattle, 4 head of yearling cattle, 4 milk cows and calves, 8 brood sows, 2 sows and pigs, 1 Poland China Boar hog, and 40 shoats.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

2 two horse wagons, 1 roller, 1 wheat drill, 1 binder, 1 mower, 1 double cutting harrow, 2 smoothing, harrows, 1 cultivator, 1 two horse rake, 1 one horse rake, and 2 Oliver plows.

Don't Buy a Wagon Until You Have Seen the Columbus

Before you decide on any wagon, examine the Columbus. Strongly built of the best possible material the Columbus wagon gives the most satisfactory service for the longest period of years. There is no secret in the notably long life of the Columbus wagon. It is the result of the methods employed in construction. There is no wood in this wagon which has not been air-dried under shelter from one to two years. The axles and the spokes of the wheels are hickory; the hounds, bolsters and sandboards are oak, and the bottom of the box is straight grained flawless pine. These are just a few examples of the care which is taken to make this wagon as reliable as possible. The result is that the Columbus wagon is unbeatable in reliability and endurance. BODILY VIGOR OF DAIRY BRED COWS

It is not unusual to hear slighting remarks with reference to the constitution of dairy bred cows. Not long since we discussed this subject with a reader, says the Kansas Farmer, who said that he believed that the every-day farmer was not justified in keeping pure bred stock; that three-fourths or seven-eighths grades were about as highly bred as a farmer should own. Further inquiry developed the fact that this man believed that as dairy animals approached pure breeding their constitution became weakened and so required the very best care and even then were short lived. He gave it as his opinion that the large, husky, fat beef animal possessed the most rugged and vigorous constitution. We asked the question as to whether or not this applied to the human family. The gentleman immediately saw the point and began to sulk.

Beef animals belong to what is known as the lymphatic temperament. This temperament is exemplified in the case of fleshy humans. Some of such persons as well as some of such animals do have vigorous constitutions, showing that the constitution does not follow or depend upon the size or the amount of flesh carried. The dairy cow belongs to what is known as the nervous temperament and which corresponds with the same temperament in humans. Such temperament does not indicate nervousness, but is the temperament applied to humans as well as to animals, spare in physical makeup. Humans built on this plan are often extremely vigorous. The size or the amount of flesh carried is not at all an indication of constitution.

There is only one test of constitution, and that is the amount of work the animal is able to do and stand up under the strain. In the case of the beef animal this is the amount of flesh it is able to put on as a result of the amount of feed it consumes. If the beef cow is a vigorous animal, eats heartily, grows fat and so is not susceptible to disease we may say she has a vigorous constitution. If, on the other hand, she is not anxious for her feed, is finicky in the selection of her feed, she is regarded as lacking in constitution.

The same condition applies exactly to dairy cows, the size of the frame or the quantity of meat on that frame not being a consideration. The fact is that the dairy cow in the production of dairy products has a strain on her animal body which is in no manner equaled by the beef animal. If she were weak constitutionally she would not be able to withstand this strain. The life of the dairy animal is as long as that of the beef animal, and there is no evidence whatever to show that dairy animals do not have a constitution in every respect equal to beef animals. It is a fact that in the very makeup of the dairy animal she is not able to resist cold rain and sleet to the same extent that the animal clad with a thick coat of fat and beef is. If in the handling of the dairy herd it is the intent of the farmer to expose his cows to the rigor of the elements, then he will find that his thin and spare dairy animals will not resist the elements as do the beef animals. He will find at the same time, too, that he will not get milk from the dairy animals kept under such conditions.

Ration For Work Horses.
In government tests of feeds for work horses, made with artillery horses at Fort Riley, Kan., it has been found that the cheapest ration and the one which gave the largest gains consisted of eight pounds of corn, two pounds of oats and ten pounds of alfalfa hay and cost 13 cents per head per day. The tests were made with ten lots of horses, with about seventy-five in each lot, and seven lots containing from seventeen to twenty horses each. The gain made was 25.6 pounds per horse in 140 days.

A ration consisting of oats, corn, wheat bran and timothy hay in the ratio of 4:3:4:12 produced six pounds of gain in 120 days, and the animals showed the best condition of any in the test, but the ration cost 19 cents per day.—Farm and Fireside.

Colic In Horses.
Horses should not take colic from eating corn if you gradually accustom them to this feed and allow it in the ear form. Where horses have to eat corn off the cob they take it in smaller mouthfuls and chew it more thoroughly than when fed shelled corn. Ground feed is always liable to cause colic.

LEXINGTON. KENTUCKY

POSTEDThe undersigned hereby give warning to all persons not to trespass upon our lands for any purpose whatever as we will prosecute all offenders to fullest extent of the law. Hunters and Fishermen especially take notice.G. W. Elam. R. L. Elkin.
Ed & N B PriceHEALTH EXHIBIT CAR, KENTUCKY TUBERCULOSIS COMMISSIONThis car has been equipped with an exhibit to instruct the public regarding the spread, cure and prevention of consumption. It will cover first the L. & N. lines in the State. Admission is free; and numerous free illustrated lectures will be given evenings in outside halls.DISINFECT!When the doctor tells you to disinfect after the recovery or death of a member of your household, do exactly as he tells you. He knows what is best, and you don't. For instance, you may believe that burning a little sulphur in the room will destroy the germs;
as a matter of fact, it will probably not even kill the bedbugs. Formaldehyde is by far the best disinfectant for most purposes. But formaldehyde gas does not penetrate. Germs lodged in mattresses, feather beds, heavy bed clothing, books,
carpets, wall paper, and similar things are not in the least affected. Everything in the room should be opened up as much as possible. Heavy blankets and similar things should be boiled for an hour.
Especially after consumption, bedding,
mattresses and upholstered furniture
ought to be burned. After the fumigation, all the woodwork should be carefully washed with hot, soapy water and then wiped off with a cloth wet with some disinfecting solution. Then a room ought to be left unoccupied for a couple of days,
if possible, with the windows wide open;
for, after all, sunlight and fresh air
are the best disinfectants.

DIAGNOSIS!If you suspect that you have consumption go at once to your physician to be diagnosed. Don't delay! Every day lost decreases the chance of cure.
And go to the best physician. Even the best physicians can not immediately distinguish tuberculosis in its first stages from other troubles. Expect your physician to take a sample of your spit, which can be examined free of charge in the laboratory of the State Board of Health. If germs of tuberculosis are found, that is absolute proof that the disease is present,
even though you can see no outward signs of its inroads. If they are not found, you may nevertheless have tuberculosis; in the early stages of the disease more often than not the germs will not be found in the sputum. Expect your physician also to make a careful physical examination of the trunk of your body from the waist line to the neck. It will take him a full half hour to do it thoroughly and, if he requests it, the patient must be stripped to the waist line.SYMPTOMS!Not one person in fifty knows accurately the symptoms of beginning consumption. The doctor can detect some things which the layman can not; but the following signs anyone can notice.
The commonest symptom is a continual cough, either a few spasms of coughing each day or a little hacking cough at intervals all day long. A slight feverish condition between one and seven o'clock in the afternoon, generally about 4 o'clock, and sometimes lasting only a half hour, is another common sign. If a person has both the cough and the fever the trouble is almost surely tuberculosis, especially if combined with a steady loss of weight; a gradual loss of appetite; a feeling of being continually tired or lack of interest in life, or night sweats, the other common signs of beginning consumption. Any one of these persisting for some weeks should cause the person concern and send him to the doctor. Don't delay.
Delay is dangerous! Find out what ails you! Everything can be gained and nothing can be lost by knowing whether or not your affliction is tuberculosis.

Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

MEDICAL BOOKS!Probably at some time or other, a smooth book agent has tried to sell you "a doctor book." Generally it is a big, heavy volume, with the names of physicians in distant cities on the title page, and a big, heavy price set on it. The agent will tell you that by a little study of its pages, you can always tell just what ails you, just what medicines to get at the drug store, and just what does to take. So you will save all doctors' bills. If you buy the book, you put yourself among that class of fools from whom the sharpers
of the world make a rich and easy living.MEDICINE!Most of us place all together too much faith in medicine. Of all the hundreds of known diseases, very few can, in every instance, be cured by any single kind of medicine. Sometimes one person, suffering with a given disease, will not be affected, or may even be harmed by a medicine
which has been given with good effects to another person. Most diseases are the result of self-indulgence, or carelessness, or ignorance, and nearly all of the sure cures, where cures are possible, are provided by nature. This is especially true in the case of consumption. There are some few cases that are benefited by medicine, but no medicine can yield a cure, or even a considerable improvement, unless it
co-operates with the forces of nature.
There are quantities of medicine chattered in the stores and advertised in every conceivable way, as cures for tuberculosis. Most of them actually injure the person who takes them; because most of them contain opiates or other harmful drugs. Every one of these "consumption cures" is planned simply to enrich the manufacturer at the expense of the most helpless people in the world. If your doctor is unable to give you medicine to cure you, don't think you can pass the drug test. 50 cents or $5.00, and cure yourself.

VISITING NURSES!A visiting nurse is a trained nurse with a special experience, supported by the city, or county, or some charitable organization, who devotes her time to visiting the sick, giving them advice, and such assistance or service as she can render in a short time. Of course, a visiting nurse is unable to attend cases of such highly infectious diseases as scarlet fever in the course of her regular duties. She is under the orders of the physician and is not allowed to make diagnoses. One such nurse can relieve a great deal of distress; but it is rather a harder task
to prevent disease than to cure it.
When, for instance, she goes to look after one case of consumption in a family, she watches the other members of the household carefully in order to see whether or not there are others just coming down with the disease. She visits patients during the period of convalescence to guard against a relapse or the catching of some other disease. She educates the families of her patients regarding what to do for the patient and how to take care of themselves so as to avoid the same disease. There are at present few visiting nurses in Kentucky.
Wouldn't you like to have one in your community? Wouldn't it be worth a little of your money every month for her support?

Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

BATH TUBS!Keep on friendly terms with your bath tub. It is the business of the skin to pass off to the surface of the body some of the waste products. In the process of hard manual work or violent exercises unusual large amounts of waste products are made,
and the sweat carries them off with greater rapidity. The action of the breeze and the rubbing of the clothes remove some of this waste, but it can not be thoroughly done except with water. A warm bath with the use of a little soap once a week is the minimum with which the skin can do its best work. Baths can well be taken more frequently, especially if one takes a great deal of exercise. Quick baths in cold water without the use of soap toughens the body and makes one less liable to have colds. However, such baths do not give the skin
a thorough cleansing, and ought not to be taken by very delicate, sensitive people except under the recommendation of a physician. Baths not only cleanse the skin, but they also start the blood to moving faster. It is known also that they have a marked effect on the nervous system. People who are exceedingly nervous or insane can be more easily and surely quieted by properly administered baths than in any other way. For continuous mental and physical health,
a bath a day is an excellent rule.
Teach this to your children!

R. E. McRoberts & Son.Some Road Figures.As Uncle Bill came out of the post office with a letter in his hand, the discussion of the tariff lulled, and one of the men yelled, "Uncle Bill!"
The old man's face wrinkled into a smile as he held up his hand and said,
"Hold on, hold on, I know what you want to ask. You see this letter, it's got just the answer you want, I'll bet a hat." He pulled the letter from its envelope, adjusted his silver-rimmed spectacles and continued, "You recollect that about a week or ten days ago
all of us here at the store was talking about State Aid for road building.
Some of you fellows asked a whole lot of questions. One of 'em was, what some of the roads in this state cost
the government.""Have you got the figures?"
"Yep, I just went home and wrote
up to Frankfort and got 'em straight.
Say, there're more of 'em and they're bigger than I thought they was. I'm going to read 'em out, if you want
'em?""Sure we do," and the group drew closer about Uncle Bill as he seated himself cautiously on a nail keg."Well, I find that way back in 1821 Kentucky gave $1,000 to improve the grade over Muldrow's Hill. That was part of the Lexington to Nashville road. But later when the people began to build sure enough good macadam roads, the State put the money up in big chunks. When they built the road from Lexington to Frankfort,
she gave $73,122. That was 27 miles of road. Then here are the other roads—

Frankfort to Louisville 52 miles $65,000

Covington to Lexington 85 " $200,000

Louisville, Frankfort to Crab Orchard

123 miles $260,000

Louisville, Bardstown to Tennessee

line 144 miles $500,000

Louisville, Bowling Green to Tennessee

line 154 miles $442,000.

"How much was that all together,
Uncle Bill?""Wait, I just got this letter and I'll have to do some figuring," and he got a stub of a lead pencil from his vest pocket. After quite a time he announced with pride and satisfaction,
"If you add in the $213,200 for the Maysville road, that makes $1,658,322
that was given in State Aid way back yonder before land was worth much and before there was any factories or big business to tax.""Why do you reckon they done it, Uncle Bill?""Because they had more every day common horse sense than we got, I reckon. They was sharp enough to see that it wasn't any tax; but an investment to boost the price of their land."

"I reckon that's so, Uncle Bill."

"Sure, it's so. The poorer your land the more you need a road to make it sell. If it's first class land and off the road, you can sell it; but if it's poor and off the road, you're up against
it. Most of our land well, it's poor enough to need a road to make it sell for a good stiff price.""Of course, everybody knows that good roads are needed and needed bad.""Well, then, if all of us know we ought to have good roads, and we know they'd improve the price of land, all we got to do is to find out the cheapest way, ain't it?"

"Yep."

"Well, then, if anybody's got a better and a easier way than State Aid, just trot it out and I'm for it
all right."HUSBAND RESCUED*DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging

Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave

Up in Despair. Husband

Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.
I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.Write for Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies'

New Stray Pen.

Chief Herron has had the space underneath the water tower enclosed by a substantial wire fence, and it will be utilized as a "stray pen". If that horse, cow or hog which you have been accustomed to allow to run at large should turn up missing some morning, you will doubtless find it in the pen, and you can secure its return upon the payment of the impounding fee and the cost of its board.

The Demand For Skilled Draftsmen And Artisans Increasing.

In order to meet the demand for draftsmen and skilled mechanics the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering of the State University, has established a short course in mechanical arts covering a period of two years. There are many young men whose secondary education has not been extended enough to enable them to enter the high grade course in mechanical and electrical engineering, but the University in order to take care of the great number of young men who are not qualified to enter the freshman class but are ambitious to become skilled draftsmen, designers and artisans, has established this course which will be of great value to many young Kentuckians and when they have finished the prescribed course of study they will be able to secure positions with industrial concerns that will lead eventually to positions of responsibility, depending upon the aptitude of each individual. This course of study is given to the young men of Kentucky practically without cost and it is hoped that a good many young men of this community will take advantage of the special training that has been provided.

During the summer the University has received a great many applications for draftsmen and young men skilled in shop practice and there will be no question about young men securing good positions when they become skilled in these practical branches.

Notice To Tax Payers.

The City Taxes were due on March 1st. There is much money due the city for taxes that should have long since been paid. The city is badly in need of funds to meet outstanding bonds, and as it takes money to run the city just as it does to run any business, I am compelled to ask that every one knowing themselves to be in arrears to come forward and settle at once and avoid unnecessary trouble and expense to which I will be compelled to put them in order to collect this long past due tax. 8-15-2t. to the Understanding

We aim at both ends—the head and the feet. People with the wisest heads are most careful with their feet seeking for them shoes that will give easy comfort, an elegant exterior and long service. For men, women and children we carry such shoes, the finest footwear ever turned out from a factory. They are models of style, of comfort and of durability, all priced most reasonably.

Is it better to skimp on your lumber now and spend liberally forever after or is it better to get the right kind of lumber at the start and make the first cost of your building the only one for years to come? If you are as sensible as we think you are we'll sell you your next lumber needed.

Oil the Machine.

When the sewing machine is not running well it is frequently because there is a collection of dust in the bearings. When this is the case, the machinery should be moistened with kerosene, then turn the balance wheel backward and forward. After the bearings have become clean oil the machine with regular machine oil.

Fillet of Sole is Rare.

A dish called fillet of sole often appears on the bills of fare of American restaurants, but it is very rarely sole. It is almost always flounder. For the sole does not swim in our waters, and the only way an American chef can get sole is from the ice box of an Atlantic liner that has just arrived from Europe, and then it is at least a week old. Sole is a far daintier fish than flounder, and it must be eaten very fresh to be any good.—New York World.

A Bit of Sarcasm.

"Is that your regular suit of clothes, Josh?" asked Farmer Cornotomel of his son.

"It is. Correct thing right from a fashion plate."

"Well, well! I thought maybe you had to wear it because some o' your college chums is hazzin' you."—Washington Star.

Henpecked.

"We're terribly henpecked, pa, ain't we?"

"Why, what do you mean, my boy?"

"Well, ma makes me wash my hands before I come to the supper table, and she makes you wash yours before you hook her up the back."—Detroit Free Press.

Literature.

"Do you consider literature an art or a science?" asked the very serious girl.

"Neither," replied Mr. Penwiggie.

"It's a great big gamble, in which anybody is permitted to write his own lottery ticket."—Washington Star.
